

Think About You

Lady Antebellum

It was mid July, summer rain
We drove past the Texaco
With an empty tank and no loose change
You swore we'd make it home
It's a little fuzzy 'cause
I was caught up in your eyes Your touch
The rush
When you showed up late on New Year's Eve
And you tried to hold my hand
You told me that you'd met someone
And I said I understand
It's hard not to fall apart
With a midnight broken heart
So I cried
But that was the last time 'Cause I don't think about you and me
What we used to be every memory anymore
Forgot about what we went through
'Cause I'm bulletproof
Oh, I bet you think I do
No, I don't think about you, you, you The place where I first saw your face
And you bought me a drink
And when we talked 'til two AM About every single dream
Well now it's just a bar
And a beat up parking lot, I see
Yeah, that's all it is to me 'Cause I don't think about you and me
What we used to be every memory anymore
Forgot about what we went through
'Cause I'm bulletproof
Oh, I bet you think I do
No, I don't think about you, you, you
No, I don't think about you Well maybe only when I'm lonely when I'm drinking
But I see you I'm always gonna play it cool
'Cause I don't think about you and me
What we used to be every memory anymore 'Cause I don't think about you and me
What we used to be every memory anymore
Forgot about what we went through
My heart is bulletproof
Oh, I bet you think I do
No, I don't think about you, you, you

No, I don't think about you, you, you (Well maybe only when I'm lonely when I'm drinking but I see you I'm always gonna play it cool)
No, I don't think about you

Songwriters

DAVE HAYWOOD, HILLARY SCOTT, SARA CHRISTINE CHRENOW, WILL WEATHERLYPublished by Lyrics Â© Downtown Music Publishing Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>