

Mecha Love (Album Version)

Hadouken!

Remember in days gone past
I spied you through a wall of glass
And there you were, kicking my heart back and forth
But now you're not so tough You wanted the world
You wanted it all
You wanted the world
You wanted it all
You wanted the world
You wanted it all
You wanted the world So here it is, the planets cried
We'll rip the stellar sky
Make way when worlds collide
I know my heart but still won't reconcile your mecha love
You hold your guns so tall
You think you've got it all You won't break my heart
I will never surrender Take a walk
So this is the last stand
So this is your last chance
So this is your last You wanted the world
You wanted it all
You wanted the world
You wanted it all As I ready for war
My exoskeleton
I'm not a passenger, I am the carrier
I know this vessel will withstand all of your mecha love
I've got you figured out
I've got you figured out You won't break my heart
I will never surrender Take a walk
So this is your last stand
So this is your last chance
So this is your last You wanted the world
You wanted it all
You wanted the world
You wanted it all So this is your last stand
So this is your last chance Take a walk
So this is your last stand
So this is your last chance
