Liar

It's Alive

So, here I stand
I'm so disappointed
I'm ashamed of all the ways
You've got to meLaughing on the outside
While you're dying on the inside
You know, you're a liar
I hope you find a place where
You can live without a face there
You know, you're a liarBehind the wheel of a life
With no control
No conscience and barely a soul
And does it scare you to know
You can't pretend anymore
Cause I'm behind every door you run toLaughing on the outside
While you're dying on the inside
You know, you're a liar
I hope you find a place where
You can live without a face there
You know, you're a liarWell I've made mistakes in my life
But nothing compares to your lies
You're a liar, you're a liar, you're a liar!Laughing on the outside
While you're dying on the inside
You know, you're a liar
I hope you find a place where
You can live without a face there
You know, you're a liarYeah!You know, you're a liar...
