It's Written on the Wall
Written by David S Theroff

One mans life is only a dream one mans thoughts are not as they seem one mans dream is only his life one mans gain is another's strife

One mans religion can cause things to fall
One mans fear is written on the wall

One girls love is showing on her face one girls life can fall from grace one girls work, erased from time one girls gain, yet another waits in line

One girls religion can cause things to fall
One girls fear is written on the wall

One persons pain can be felt by us all Yet one persons feelings we never saw One person war, wrong or right
One persons memories held us in fright

One persons religion can cause things to fall
One persons fear is written on the wall
