

Better Best Forgotten

Steps

If only you read my mind
You'd see I was hurt inside
A thousand times I've told myself
It's over, it's over But the story has just begun
And darling what's done is done
It's time to change and leave the past behind Why should we know all the answers
Or how the story ends, so baby Let's take a chance on a happy ending
Let's turn the page and stop pretending
The past can stop a heart from mending
It's time to let go 'cause, baby you know
Some things are better best forgotten And baby we can't pretend
In time the scars will mend
Please believe me there's a chance
Let's take it, let's take it And maybe at last we'll find
That love should be true not blind
You can't deceive a heart that's open wide And even now it's not too late
To change the story's end, so baby Let's take a chance on a happy ending
Let's turn the page and stop pretending
The past can stop a heart from mending
It's time to let go 'cause, baby you know
Some things are better best forgotten The story has just begun
And darling what's done is done
It's time to change and leave the past behind Let's take a chance on a happy ending
Let's turn the page and stop pretending
The past can stop a heart from mending
It's time to let go 'cause, baby you know
Some things are better best forgotten Let's take a chance on a happy ending
Let's turn the page and stop pretending
The past can stop a heart from mending
It's time to let go 'cause, baby you know
Some things are better best forgotten Let's take a chance on a happy ending
Let's turn the page and stop pretending
The past can stop a heart from mending
It's time to let go 'cause, baby you know
Some things are
