

Hidden Planes

Solomon Grey

Teach yourself to know yourself
Be the one and no one else for me
Colors black before your eyes
Faded shapes are no surprise to me
Turn yourself and others in
There's a spark
The lights begin to unfold
Cut yourself before you grow
There is where the rabbit hole will be
And all you know
Is on the fire
Control yourself
It's all worthwhile
Don't believe in all you see
Hidden planes
A secret you'll never reach
All that glitters isn't gold
This is how you sold your soul for free
And all you know
Is on the fire
Control yourself
It's all worthwhile
Take it slow
And you can grow
Beside yourself
There's no one else
Take yourself before you go
This is where the garden grows for you
Everybody wants to take the test
Save your breath
There's nothing left to breathe
And all you know
Is on the fire
Control yourself
It's all worthwhile
Take it slow
And you can grow
Beside yourself
There's no one else
