Your Own Reality

Paradise Lost

All that's lost never found, remains of all this...
Never crossed are the ones that see
Taken to the ground, because you're honest
Stripped and bound for your honestyIt's in your heart, it's in your soul
(It's in your own reality)
It's in your heart, it's in your soulNever disguise all the tears that I've criedI took a trip inside I'm weary,
Lay injustice on your headIt's in your heart, it's in my soul in your own reality
It's in my heart it's in your soul...You believe that control has freed
Never disguise all the tears that are criedWe all betray despite the theories
But I'm not conscious of the things I didIt's in your heart, it's in my soul, in your own reality
It's in my heart it's in your soul...You believe that control has freed
Never disguise all the tears that are cried
You believe that control has freed
Never disguise all the tears that are cried
