Inside A Flower

Elisa

Hold back the time
Just let it hang
Stop the seconds minutes and hours
And if I give you love
Will you let me keep myselfI'm sitting out here on the very edge of earth
Looking through a book from long before the world began
The man who gave it to me didn't have a name
As overhead the sun is running down the dayThe book begins its story
It tells of war and hate it tells of power
The promises of freedom
And of all religions love and ways of lifeAnd how to close your time inside a flower
Stop the seconds minutes hours
Close your time inside a flower
Live your life forget the powerThe people passing by they stop to look at me
They all think I'm crazy cause I'm laughing in the wind
But I am free to be whatever I may choose
To win this freedom I know that somebody had to loseI've learned of those who buy love
Read about those willing to sell it
When we're born it's for love
Some of us would die just to get itWhat you gotta do is close your time inside a flower
Stop the seconds minutes hours
Close your time inside a flower
Live your life forget the powerWe can give our love away and never lose ourselves
But no one can be something that you own
And if you think you've got the right to tell me what I am
I got no trouble leaving you aloneClose your time inside a flower
Stop the seconds minutes hours
Close your time inside a flower
Live your life forget the power
