Green Hell

Gauge 44

I can hear your soft, soft voice sliding down the walls
And I feel a green light kissing my face
Tell me when you wake up, is this where you're gonna be?
You don't think I'll notice but I can wait for you to leave
So when I saw this place that I couldn't resist
All these beautiful things yes, I had to persist
When I went to touch them they'd act so tame
But underneath the glitter there was so much pain
Someone started talking
Way below the pitch I read
I couldn't really hear what they were saying
But it really didn't bother me oh no
I was on my way, yeah
To being lost all over again
I'm following this girl into the ocean
Now I'm drowned in, in a mermaid's bed
'Til I hold my breathe, I shoot through the chamber
On my way to losing some friends
I can hear your soft, soft voice sliding down the walls

And I feel a green light kissing my face
Tell me when you wake up, is this where you're gonna be?
You don't think I'll notice but I can wait for you to leave
Now all your life has been wasted, chasing after me
And now you've got the nerve to come and put it all on me, yeah
I love how these things come full circle, every time
Swinging around like a racking ball in your fragile soul
You can run, but the scars you can never hide
Oh, your face is giving you away
And the truth hurts more than the matter
And the sun screams louder at night
I can hear your soft, soft voice sliding down the walls
And I feel a green light kissing my face
Tell me when you wake up, is this where you're gonna be?
You don't think I'll notice but I can wait for you to leave
Oh, do you know where you are, do you at all?
Do you know where you are, do you at all?
Know where you are, my green hell
