

Here In My Lonely Room

The Ink Spots

Here in my lonely room I cried my heart out over you Can't see to put myself together (now) now that we are through

Each time I look at your picture I begin to pine
All because it reminds me you're no longer mine

Here in my lonely room I almost drive myself insane
Watching the tears like raindrop splash against my window vain

Theres only one thing I knob that would take away this gloom
And that would be to see you standing here in my lonely room

"Deep sexy talk"

[Here in my lonely room honey child you got me cry over you but someday I'll be on top and you be somebody's fool]

There's only one thing I knob that would take away this gloom
And that would be to see you standing here in my lonely room
