

Worthy

Ani DiFranco

You think you're not worthy I'd have to say I agree
I'm not worthy of you you're not worthy of me
Which of us is deserving look at the human race
The whole planet at arm's length and we don't deserve this place
What good is a poker face when you've got an open hand
I was supposed to be cool about this I remember cool was the plan
Tried to keep it all under wraps but the wraps kept going slack
I keep turning round, I keep coming back Give me a vertical your horizontal line
I want to take each of them bend them to fit mine
The world is too good for me I am such a naughty girl
But when we're together we're too good for this world
You think you're not worthy I'd have to say I agree
I'm not worthy of you you're not worthy of me
