Images

Bel Canto

It took some time before it entered my mind,
Before it did, I was fine, I was o.k.
It took some time but when it did cross my mind,
I thought my head was about to detonate.
Images of baby turtles in a commotion
Cracking their eggs and shuffling around in the sand.
Trying desperately to find their way to the ocean
In time before the big birds catch them.It took some time before it entered my mind, before,
I kind of was blind, I didn't see.
It took some time but when it did cross my mind,
It felt like something inside me was set free.
Images of levitating frogs in motion high up above in enormous magnetic fields.
Images of fishes hopping up from the ocean.Images of...In time, in time, in time, it will most surely be time.
Images of psychedelic rats in a fountain which I just passed about two hours ago.
Some of them with different luminous starmaps on, one was transparent and indigo.
Images of army snails down under the ocean fighting their way by eating up monstergrass.
Wonder if they do or do not take any notion?Images of...In time...in time, in time, in time, in time, in time, in time,
In time, in time, in time, in time, in time, it will surely be time...

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/