Enough About Me

Feeling Left Out

I think I stood up too fast because my head is light and I don't think I can think straight anymoreI know you like gravity make sure I wash my face and I brush my teeth
just hope to spark your memoryThe computer lies it can't show my face
So impersonalI'll pretend I don't know that you're there I'll just wait for you to say helloYou take your time to respond to me
Seems like you're keeping busy latelySo I'll sign off without saying goodbye
I hope it hurts to watch me goBut enough about meI hoped for the very best but now I think I'm in over my, my headAnd I hoped for the very best but now I think I'm in over my, my headI think I stood up too fast because my head is light
think straight anymoreI know you like gravity
make sure I wash my face
just hope to spark your memoryThe computer lies
it can't show my face
So impersonalI'll pretend I don't know that you're there
I'll just wait for you to say helloYou take your time to respond to me
Seems like you're keeping busy latelySo I'll sign off without saying goodbye
I hope it hurts to watch me goBut enough about meI hoped for the very best
but now I think I'm in over
my, my headAnd I hoped for the very best
but now I think I'm in over my, my head (x3)But enough about me
