Beautiful Lies

B-Complex

Beautiful lies, beautiful lies
Each word is a heartache in perfect disguise
I can't help but listen and then I realize
The words you have spoken are beautiful liesCall me a dreamer in a fool's paradise
My heart knows no difference, that love that's unwise
Tell me you love me and will till you die
Like music, you thrill me with beautiful liesBeautiful lies, beautiful lies
Each word is a heartache in perfect disguise
I can't help but listen and then I realize
The words you have spoken are beautiful liesI hear wedding bells ringing, I have stars in my eyes
I see red roses blooming, a rainbow in the sky
All sweet things come to me in the twinkle of an eye
When you hold and tell me those beautiful liesBeautiful lies, beautiful lies
Each word is a heartache in perfect disguise
I can't help but listen and then I realize
The words you have spoken are beautiful lies
