

Beautiful Lies

B-Complex

Beautiful lies, beautiful lies

Each word is a heartache in perfect disguise

I can't help but listen and then I realize

The words you have spoken are beautiful liesCall me a dreamer in a fool's paradise

My heart knows no difference, that love that's unwise

Tell me you love me and will till you die

Like music, you thrill me with beautiful liesBeautiful lies, beautiful lies

Each word is a heartache in perfect disguise

I can't help but listen and then I realize

The words you have spoken are beautiful liesI hear wedding bells ringing, I have stars in my eyes

I see red roses blooming, a rainbow in the sky

All sweet things come to me in the twinkle of an eye

When you hold and tell me those beautiful liesBeautiful lies, beautiful lies

Each word is a heartache in perfect disguise

I can't help but listen and then I realize

The words you have spoken are beautiful lies
