Haze (feat. M. Shadows)

Device

It's early morning
And the sun holds no redemption for me
And I then discover
All the scratches running up and down my spine
From the other nightI stagger onward
And the pain is nearly crippling me
Such sweet destruction
I'm a glutton when the decadence tastes right
Like the other nightThe euphoric feeling is so right
When it seizes control, all my inhibitions are left behind
And I know that reality really won't mind
A benevolent soul, who desires to leave all their cares behindLater in the evening
I can hear all the vices calling to me
So I take another
Little taste, to liberate my mind
From the finest kindYeah the night's beginning
And the sea of bodies crowd around me
Ready to remember
All the greatest moments lived in their lifetime
For another nightThe euphoric feeling is so right
When it seizes control, all my inhibitions are left behind
And I know that reality really won't mind
A benevolent soul, who desires to leave all their cares behindI'm not the only one, learn a little lesson from me
I'm a leviathan, focused on fulfilling a need
The faint of heart observe the bolder ones setting the bar
A feeding frenzy when the starving just forget where they areYou're in denial when you say you never wanted a taste
And you don't really want to let this stimulant go to waste
So don't deny it go on and try it
I'm looking forward to the moment when your mind will fall in love with the hazeThe euphoric feeling is so right
When it seizes control, all my inhibitions are left behind
And I know that reality really won't mind
A benevolent soul, who desires to leave all their cares behindThe euphoric feeling is so right
When it seizes control, all my inhibitions are left behind
And I know that reality really won't mind
A benevolent soul, who desires to leave all their cares behind
