Forever More

Dionysus

When I'm down and out without the strength to carry on
The sun still reaches your hair as it's always done
Will I ever see you again, just one last time?
Anyhow I cannot feel any peace of mindAll around the world the fallen ones will see
That love was never ever meant for me
I?m torn apart but how could I flee?
I would die for you, so please come rescue me'Cause I wonder where you are
Have our freedom gone too far?
Is there still an open door?
I will love you forever ever moreI realize that life is never easy
But in my heart, I'd hoped for something greater
A dream I guess, but something to hold on to
A rainbow on a darkening, rainy sky'Cause my body's caught, but still my soul is out there
They can take away my life, but not my freedom
My love is all that matters, you'll see
I would die for you, so please come rescue me'Cause I wonder where you are
Have our freedom gone too far?
Is there still an open door?
I will love you forever ever moreWhen I'm down and out without the strength to carry on
The sun still reaches your hair as it's always done
Will I ever see you again, just one last time?
Anyhow I cannot feel any peace of mind'Cause I wonder where you are
Have our freedom gone too far?
Is there still an open door?
I will love you forever ever more
