My Goodbye

Automatic Loveletter

You've got me where you want me
Falling on the ground
I hold you in the highest place
So I'm getting out'Cause you've got me so strung out
When you'll even come aroundYeah, how am I supposed to breathe?
The more I live it's killing me
But now I've begun to see
Every time you leaveThis is the last time, this is the last fight
Sunsets to sunrise, this is my goodbye
From morning to midnight
With or without you, this is my goodbyeYou were trouble since the day we met
I can see that now
I take back everything I said
Everything till now'Cause you've got me so strung out
When you'll even come aroundYeah, how am I supposed to breathe?
The more I live it's killing me
But now I've begun to see
Every time you leaveThis is the last time, this is the last fight
Sunsets to sunrise, this is my goodbye
From morning to midnight
With or without you, this is my goodbyeI'm writing you out, I'm crossing my tears
And I want back the necklace that I said you could keep
You miscomprehend, I'll scorn you to death
And my words are as strong as my last gasp for breathThis is the last time, this is the last fight
Sunsets to sunrise, this is my goodbye
From morning to midnight
With or without you, this is my goodbye
Goodbye, goodbye, goodbye
Goodbye, goodbye, goodbye
