Do you remember that day?
I said I loved you but now everything has changed
Thought you were off on holidays
Yeah, but I saw you in town laughing with what his nameDo you remember that day?
I held your hands and we danced along with Sugar Ray
Do you remember that place?
We looked out over the land and over the sand and waves
But what his name?Do you remember that day?
We drove on into town to witness Rhubarb play
Do you remember our first date?
You said ello?and I smiled, but now I on my way
But what his name?Youe beautiful, yeah youe a babe
But I am never coming back
The principles, the tears, the pain
Yeah, you will never see me back
I feel a loss, I feel ashamed
For all the things that could have been
My love remains, pulse in my veins, but the fact remains
That you lied to meBreathe and feel the morning and the sorrow, don you?
Breathe and feel the morning and the sorrow, don you?Breathe and feel the morning and the sorrow, don you?
Breathe and feel the morning and the sorrow, don you?
