

Fair

Ben Folds Five

Well, he shouted out his last word
And he stumbled through the yard
And she shattered her last China plate
And spun off in the car When he lunged onto the hood
She stopped to tell him she'd been wrong
He was thrown head over heels
Into the traffic coming on but then All is fair
All is fair in love Did you get my other letters?
Sometimes I think I oughta call
'Cause you know I often
Wonder if you open them at all Every couple nights or so
You know you pop into my dreams
I just can't get rid of you like you got rid of me
Ohh, but I send my best
'Cause God knows you've seen my worst Well, all is fair
All is fair in love All this breathing in, never breathing out
All this breathing in, never breathing out
All this breathing in, never breathing out Well, I guess she made her way
Through the mob too late to hear him say
That he'd gotten all he wanted
A crowd to watch him bear the pain
He'd been keeping in, so what All is fair
All is fair in love Yeah, well all is fair
All is fair in love Am I right? Am I right?
Not only am I right
I'm lonely and I'm right
Yeah
