Fair

Ben Folds Five

Well, he shouted out his last word And he stumbled through the yard And she shattered her last China plate And spun off in the carWhen he lunched onto the hood She stopped to tell him she'd been wrong He was thrown head over heels Into the traffic coming on but then All is fair All is fair in loveDid you get my other letters? Sometimes I think I oughta call 'Cause you know I often Wonder if you open them at allEvery couple nights or so You know you pop into my dreams I just can't get rid of you like you got rid of me Ohh, but I send my best 'Cause God knows you've seen my worstWell, all is fair All is fair in loveAll this breathing in, never breathing out All this breathing in, never breathing out All this breathing in, never breathing outWell, I guess she made her way Through the mob too late to hear him say That he'd gotten all he wanted A crowd to watch him bear the pain He'd been keeping in, so whatAll is fair All is fair in loveYeah, well all is fair All is fair in loveAm I right? Am I right? Not only am I right I'm lonely and I'm right
