Little Clown

Jason Collett

You betray your heart
When all your charm has faded
You say it's not your fault
That your privilege makes you hatedAnd still you talk too loud
Tryin to live up to the reputation
You wear your little crown
Of self-congratulationsOh, you little clown
Oh, you little clown
Oh, you little clown
Oh, you little clownYou've been drivin it around
And you don't know where to take it
You've been tryin to live it down
You can no longer fake itBrother, why are you so proud?
Brother, why are you so proud?Oh, you little clown
Oh, you little clown
Oh, you little clown
Oh, you little clownAnd you're not so tough
If you don't know love
And it's not enough
To just keep it to yourselfBrother, let it break you down
Brother, let it break you downOh, you little clown
Oh, you little clown
Oh, you little clown
Oh, you little clownBrother, let it take you under
Broken wing
You will learn to love againBrother, let it take you under
Her broken wing
You will learn to love againBrother, let it take you under
Brother, let it break you down
