

Praying from the Danger

Gone Is Gone

Inject it into your dirt blood
The feeling is never enough
You will be fine is what you said
I'll think about that when you're dead
Following the eyes of the owl inside your head
See the balance of, feel the pressure on
Hear the sound of all, be the pleasant one
Knowing all I see, call and reasoning
All I'm offering, a solid ending
Of all the hours you spent on praying from the danger
Castaway the night
Running from the time
Staring at the lies from the bowel of the insect
Take away from me, fake the energy
Call upon me, fall apart of it
Growing over me, show the agony
Make the best of me, shake the enemy
Of all the hours you spent on praying from the danger
Castaway the night
Running from the time
Castaway the night
Running from the time
Castaway
Castaway the night
Of all the hours you spent on praying from the danger
Of all the hours you spent on running and running
(Crawl under, all over)
