Who Sold Out Now

Ignite

The plow that broke the plains
We as humans destroy everything
Well there's limits to the land
Left the resistance
And the monkey wrenchBecause money rules again
Life is so much easier
When your bills are paid
You finished your studies, masters degree
Now consulting development companiesWho sold out nowSixteen years old and live at home
In front of your friends
Calling out at shows
You left the scene because
Your new girlfriend told you soNow freaked out on x at some Rave or techno money rules again
Distro circus at every show
I came to support these touring bands
Nothings free pay my ticket at the doorWho sold out nowConstant complaining
Makes my ears ring
I care about hardcore
But hate the sceneThe plow that broke the plains
We as humans abuse every way
There's limits to me friend
What happened to the
Brotherhood we sharedWell, money rules again
I'll give you anything if you just ask
Hung yourself from your own rope
I count my loss and just walk awayWho sold out now
