

Are You Serious

Andrew Bird

Used to have just one foot out the door
Yeah, I always wanted more
I always was the one
You thought would never marry
Used to be so wilfully obtuse, or is the word abstruse?
Semantics like a noose, get out your dictionaries I'm gonna cut to the quick
This is all nonfiction
Words you beat with a stick
These are my true convictions So tell me, are you serious?
Are you serious?
'Cause every night of your life
You'll fight for it
So mysterious
How imperious!
But are you serious
When it really comes down to it? I see that you're down there and I'm up here
Your boyfriend's gone to get a beer
Leaving us crystal-clear lines of communications
Promise me you won't avert your eyes
I'll drop my third-person disguise
You know it's time to do or die
No useless explanations I'm gonna cut to the quick
This is all nonfiction
Words you beat with a stick
These are my true convictions Tell me, are you serious?
Are you serious?
Every night of your life
You'll fight for it
So mysterious
How imperious!
But are you serious
When it really comes down to it?

Songwriters

Andrew Bird, Daniel Dodd Wilson Published by Lyrics Â© BMG Rights Management US LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>