Damned And Divine

Tarja

It won't help if you wait for me
I'm a slave to the dark
I know I'm not a saint, you see
The dawn is when it startsFeel the shadow of my oblivion
Hoping mercy would show her face
On the road to your own perdition
In the coal-blackened rainFrozen in time yearning forbidden wishes
Damned and divine, scars of my broken kisses
What will follow if tomorrow's blind?
My eternal nightAs the wind takes me away from you
Before the morning light
My sins are fading into view
I'm so weary deep insideFeel the shadow of my oblivion
Hoping mercy would show her face
On the road to your own perdition
I may see you againFrozen in time yearning forbidden wishes
Damned and divine, scars of my broken kisses
What will follow if tomorrow's blind?
My eternal nightFrozen in time yearning forbidden wishes
Damned and divine, scars of my broken kisses
What will follow if tomorrow's blind?
My eternal nightEvery single dawn, I die again

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/