Big Dipper

Jesse Davis

Once
When I was little someone pointed out to me
Some constellations but the big dipper's all I could see That brontasaurus must have stood a thousand miles high
That brontasaurus laying on its side up in the sky
Bottoms up and this time
Won't you let me be?
Bottled up but this time
Won't you rescue me?
You should have been here last night and heard what the big dipper said to me
Jack thought it twice and thought that that that made it true
Some brains just work that way that's what chemicals can do
He thought he'd have a beer
he thought he was alone

He thought an Albertson's stir fry dinner would make his apartment a home
Bottoms up and this time
Bottled up but this time
Won't you let me be?
Won't you rescue me?
You should have been here last night and heard what the big dipper said to me
I thought I bored me but I learned to think like you Now nothing bores me that's that nothing is thought through
Bottled up but this time
Bottoms up and this time
Won't you rescue me?
Won't you let me be?
It's all I can see
Thought it out and this time
You should have been here last night and heard what the big dipper said to me

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/