

Let's Start

Tantric

If you reveal to me again what you are holding close there will be more to understand more than anyone knows crossing the line that you have drawn on other peoples backs when you are abusing all along whats done you can't retract Let's start
ready or not overcome the notion (It's waiting here for you) Let's start
and find a new solution (It's waiting here for you) Under the lies of every day lives your reality finding the words I have to say so that I will please Running away from all the pain that has left the scars on you what you see now is what remains and where I have fallen to
