Be The One

Yes

Never underestimate the loving
How we intertwine our very soul
How we fill each other's spaces
To lose controlWhen you're talking be the children
Who stand on solid ground?
Never underestimate the giving
That will bring you aroundI'll be there, to bring you this love in the morning
I'll be there, to bring you the stars at night
I'll be there, just waiting to hear you singingNever underestimate a giver
The gift of love will surely be
Whe you're askin' for the secrets
To set you freeWhen you're talkin' to the friendship
That love of higher self
This gift of love is the answer
To all your doubtsBe the one, giving in to love
Never let the good in life desert you
Be the one, giving in to love
Never let the fools destroy your dreamsBe the one, giving in to love
I can dream myself every minute
So how did we become
Masters of limitation?I'll be there, I'll be there
I'll be there to make it right for youGiving in, giving in to love
It's the balance of this everyday feeling
Giving in, giving in to love
Without love our dreams become illusionGiving in, giving in to right love
I can hear you singing every minute
So you can sing the song
And see the truthSo we worked all around amidst the glory of life
Any fire of the flame would be made
Should the famine of change to disguise everyone
Who cannot see the soul of truth ready madeBut all because we're changing now
As the prophets of doom speak their mind
It's a long, long, way from where the system began
It's a long, long way humankindSo we dance down on nature as we try to repeat
All our efforts as one sent today
Taking back instead of giving, taking back more or less
Taking back a sense of being afraidSo all this is necessary changes now
As the will to help all man
And the children of the crucified

Will be better off, better deadBut all this senseless killing
And all these chains and lies
I want to know right now, I want to know right now
I want to know where we come fromFor it's a long, long, way from where the system began
It's a long, long, way humankind
It's a long, long, way from where the system began
It's a long, long, way humankind, yeahGiving in, giving in to love
I can see and feel the truth every minute
Giving in, giving in to love
Be the one to rescue you, rescue youGiving in, giving in to the right love
There's no way that you can live without it
So we can become
Masters of our invention, giving[Incomprehensible]Giving in, giving in to love
I can see and feel the truth every minute
Giving in, giving in to real love
Be the one to rescue you, rescue you, rescue youGiving in, giving in to the right love
There's no way that you can live without it
So we can become
Masters of our inventionNever underestimate the power
Never underestimate the power
