

Livin' The Dream

Pure X

looks like i fell into that dream again i put my heart into it
i put my life into it and then i found out it was a dream
a dream i'd been livin' looks like i fell into that thing again where it's all war money something taken from me but that aint real
it's just a dream
a dream i'd been livin'
livin' the dream
i been livin' the dream
i'll wear through every mask that i've been given until i find my way at last
back to the beginning
(lost and stupid dream)
i was thrown into it
born alone into
but now i know
it was a dream
and i make the meaning
now i found my way
