White Doves

Kyla La Grange

So lonely when I can't slide
You told me we were White Doves
So lonely when I can't slide
You told me we were both lostSo you coming down to the river
If I take your lie in vain
Nothing here left to deliver
So please go on your waySo you coming down to the river
Where we both used to play
It don't make any difference
I'll take you anywaySo lonely when I can't slide
You told me we were White Doves
So lonely when I can't slide
You told me we were both lost
So you coming down to the cellar
We could take it all the way
You kiss me and it taste so bitter
Like you see inside my brainSo you coming down the cellar
Where your brother's bones still lay
We don't talk of this summer
When he got took awayI am never coming back if you know what I mean
I was only ever waiting to be 17
Well, I am never coming back if you know what I mean
I was only ever waiting to be 17I am never coming back if you know what I mean
I was only ever waiting to be 17
Well, I am never coming back if you know what I mean
It's the last time, the last time
So lonely when I can't slide
You told me we were White Doves
So lonely when I can't slide
You told me we were both lostSo you coming down to the river
Will you come down to the river?
Will you come down to the river?
Will you come down?
