

Breaking Down Paradise

Roger Daltrey

Can you hear that sound?
It's all around you and me
There's a voice
It searched and found you What can it be?
It's like thunder and lightning
Speaking your name
And this man of fire
Could be burnt in the flame
You know what you do, what you do You're breaking down paradise
And I'm the one who pays the price
Any way I play or lose
Any way that I throw the dice
You're breaking down paradise
You're breaking down paradise You walk away and turned the day
Into night, the cold and lonely night
Out of the silence there's a hurricane
And all around me it's burning again
And again and again and again You're breaking down paradise
And I'm the one who pays the price
Any way that I play or lose
Any way that I throw the dice
You're breaking down paradise
You're breaking down paradise It's like thunder and lightning
Speaking your name
And this man of fire
Could be burnt in the flame
You know what you do, what you do You're breaking down paradise
And I'm the one who pays the price
Any way I play or lose
Any way that I throw the dice You're breaking down paradise
And I'm the one who pays the price
Any way I play or lose
Any way that I throw the dice You're breaking down paradise
You're breaking down paradise
You're breaking down paradise
You're breaking down paradise
