The Mantras

Verse:

What did it take to break the rest
They're all divided
Ain't no place for second best
It's all divided
Shaking breaking, from distress
I'm all divided
This life should be our finest test
But we're all divided
Slipped up and collided
To form a space
Between the ones you love Define this
Define that
On different terms
Through different paths
Define this
Define that
On different terms
Through different paths
To find a way
To make it last
In forming space
Between the ones you love Here we go again
Though we know
It makes no sense
To lie awake in vain
Here we go again
Though we know
It makes no sense
To lie awake in bed Live for today
Cause you'll never know
If the winds of change
Might blow us all away
Live for today
Yeah yeah yeah yeah
