

Oceans Apart

Yves Jean

This will hurt for the rest of my life
This choice i made may no right
We can say we gave it try
Find ourselves living separate lives

Girl we are oceans apart
Half way around the world
but you still have my heart
I miss your voice and think about you every day

I woke up this morning to sky being gray
I felt a sense of emptiness throughout the day
Throughout the day and into the night
Im tossing and turning with a loss of appetite
Oh something is lost and something is missing
The effect that you have me has thinking it hasn't long ..its just been one day but the hours and the minutes keep ticking away

Girl we are oceans apart
Half way around the world
but you still have my heart
I miss your voice and think about you every day

I cant a imagine a world without you Darkness in my day when it should be light
Oh that connection cant be broken

Girl we are oceans apart
Half way around the world
but you still have my heart
I miss your voice and think about you every day

Lyrics submitted by Josh Woodard.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>