

Invited to the Dance

Gloria Loring

Oh, weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance
Yes, weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance
We may come from the mountains, caressing the sky
From valleys so deep, the sun never shines
But weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance

We once knew, as children do,
The gift we were given so long ago
Though weâ€™re all a part of a Greater Heart
Weâ€™ve forgotten the words to the song

But weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance
Yes, weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance
We may travel in darkness or follow a star
Whatever we do, we must come as we are
And weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance

We donâ€™t yet know where this road will go
The traveler must wait for the way to be shown
And now a light beckons through the night
With the promise of finally leading us home

For weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance
Yes weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance
We may travel in darkness or follow a star
But itâ€™s time to recall who we really are and weâ€™ve all been invited...
Once we stood at the window and stopped at the door
Youâ€™d think that our feet had been nailed to the floor
But the music is calling and this is our chance
To do what we can to master the dance

And weâ€™ve all been invited to the dance...
