

Change the World

Tantric

I don't have another reason
Why all these thoughts are floatin' through my head
It seems I take myself through seasons
I take it all myself, my pain instead Break me off a little somethin'
Why do I always have to compromise? Yeah Let me be myself just one time
Don't wanna search for what I cannot find
My patience's runnin' thin with this state
An' there's only so much one can really take I've tried an' I've tried just to see it your way
Nothin' is better than stayin' the same
So you can change the world
It's your world, change the world You're steppin' up to me once again
An' I'm wired, tired, sick of all your lies
You better sit your ass down, my friend
'Coz I'll decide who angers me inside I've tried an' I've tried just to see it your way
Nothin' is better than stayin' the same
So you can change the world
It's your world, change the world An' I've tried an' I've tried just to see it your way
Nothin' is better than stayin' the same
So you can change the world
It's your world, change the world I've tried an' I've tried just to see it your way
Nothin' is better than stayin' the same
So you can change the world
It's your world, change the world An' I've tried an' I've tried just to see it your way
Nothin' is better than stayin' the same
So you can change the world
It's your world, change the world An' I've tried an' I've tried just to see it your way
Nothin' is better than stayin' the same
But you can change the world
It's your world, change the world
