

Daybreak (feat. Henk)

Jens East

Daybreak

Jens East

The sun blazed so brightly,
Up in the summer sky
I shouted at the mountains:
"Watch me shine and fly!"
But then cracked the thunder,
And the heavens cried.
Our world torn asunder,
Her heart said goodbye.
Now I'm standing in our ashes,
Feeling the sunshine once again
I move to the horizon,
Feeling the sunshine once again
Feeling the sunshine once again
Feeling the sunshine once again
The sun blazed so brightly,
Up in the summer sky
I shouted at the mountains:
"Watch me shine and fly!"
But then cracked the thunder,
And the heavens cried.
Our world torn asunder,
Her heart said goodbye.
Now I'm standing in our ashes,
Feeling the sunshine once again
I move to the horizon,
Feeling the sunshine once again
Feeling the sunshine once again
Feeling the sunshine once again
