

Step Up The Morphine

DMA's

Losing expression
facing the order
step up the morphine
stand by my side Bored of rejection caught in the heavens planning a new one taking the sky You were the silence in my brain
I'll tell her by the weather
We built a kingdom in the rain
I think we're getting better Sometimes I wonder why we bother at all Under impressions growing and cooking Sideways and under Cure my glances Fortune and memories
I should be loathing
I couldn't find you and I shouldn't care You were the silence in my brain
I'll tell her by the weather
We built a kingdom in the rain
sometimes I wonder why we bother at all I'll rise to the sun sitting in the back of the ride I'll rise to the sun sitting in the back of the ride Sometimes I wonder why we bother at all Sometimes I wonder why we bother at all Grant me a new one I'm growing slowly sign of reflection queued by a goddess loaded and ready
more than I wanted
Step up the morphine
