Orange County

The Bluebells

He drives up to her house
She tells her mama goodbye
She jumps into his car
They kiss lit in the radios lightAnd they kind of fall in love tonight
Underneath the Orange County sky
They sleep on the beach until they see
The morning come, life was over before it begunWe still got our MTV, Chasey and Gwen Steffani
Tivo for my sweet 16 and prepaid AT&T
The things we think that we need for our American dream
We're so perfectly Orange CountyShe has a baby coming
He quits school to get a job
She stays at home alone, thinking
'Where have the good times gone?'And they kind of fall in love tonight
Underneath the Orange County sky
They sleep on the beach until they see
The morning come, life was over before it begunWe still got our MTV, Chasey and Gwen Steffani
Tivo for my sweet 16 and prepaid AT&T
The things we think that we need, now that two become three We're so perfectly Orange County, Orange CountyWhere have all the good times gone?
And she says, 'Where have all the good times gone?"And they kind of fall in love tonight
Underneath the Orange County sky
They sleep on the beach until they see
The morning come, life was over before it begunWe still got our MTV, Chasey and Gwen Steffani
Tivo for my sweet 16 and prepaid AT&T
My Jacobs and Gucci gear will pay it off in a year
Credit cards to pay our debts, so why aren't we happy yet?Old pictures of you and me, when we were young and free
And memories so perfectly Orange County, Orange County
Orange County, Orange County

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/