

Give Thanks

Insted

It's such a short time we're on this earth.

We all tend to neglect from the moment of birth.

Let's put aside the evil and look towards the good realizing what we have, is something we should.

Step back, look around, what do you see?

Step back, look around, and assess your needs.

There's people less fortunate, with no place-to sleep.

This life they were brought into, with nothing to eat.

Don't take for granted the things you have cause compared to some people, life's not that bad, There's good things out there just look around, I'm not gonna let a loss bring me down.

But instead I'll keep pushing on and be thankful for my life's not over and done.

Give thanks for what we are given.

Appreciate what you have got
