

You Never Knew

HAIM

It was a weight on my shoulders
A strain on my back
But I love to have you, right there by my side
You couldn't take it
You couldn't take it It used to be, when we are alone
We shared such beautiful moments
But lately it's been such a mess
You couldn't take it
You couldn't take it
Go on and say it
Was my love too much for you to take?
Well I guess you never knew what was good for you
Don't keep me waiting, say the words that you're too scared to say
I guess you never knew what was good for you
I need to hear you say it
Was my love too much for you to take?
I guess you never knew what was good for you
Don't keep me waiting, say the words that you're too scared to say
I guess you never knew what was good for you I came home to see you, you weren't around
Excuses were one right after the other
You couldn't take it
You couldn't take it
You woke up from another dream, another fight you didn't mean
Still, time after time
I came running to get you
You couldn't take it
You couldn't take it Go on and say it
Was my love too much for you to take?
I guess you never knew what was good for you
Don't keep me waiting, say the words that you're too scared to say
I guess you never knew what was good for you
I need to hear you say it
Was my love too much for you to take?
I guess you never knew what was good for you
Don't keep me waiting, say the words that you're too scared to say
I guess you never knew what was good for you You couldn't take it
Another heart, another day
So much time was thrown away
You couldn't take it

You know I love to be in love
You couldn't take it
So tired of trying to show you
I worked so hard Go on and say it
Was my love too much for you to take?
I guess you never knew what was good for you
Don't keep me waiting, say the words that you're too scared to say
I guess you never knew what was good for you
I need to hear you say it
Was my love too much for you to take?
I guess you never knew what was good for you
Don't keep me waiting, say the words that you're too scared to say
I guess you never knew what was good for you I guess you never knew
I guess you never knew what was good for you
I guess you never knew
I guess you never knew what was good for you
I guess you never knew
I guess you never knew what was good for you
I guess you never knew
I guess you never knew what was good for you
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>