

Bowie

Flight of the Conchords

Bowie's in space, Bowie's in space
Whatcha doin' out there, man?
That's pretty freaky Bowie, ooh Bowie
Is it cold out in space, Bowie?
You can borrow my jumper if you like, Bowie Does the cold of deep space
Make your nipples go pointy, Bowie?
Do you use your pointy nipples as telescopic antennae
To transmit data back to Earth?
I betcha do, you freaky old bastard you Do you have one really funky sequined space suit, Bowie
Or do you have several ch-changes?
Do they smoke grass out in space, Bowie
Or do they smoke AstroTurf, ooh? Receiving transmission
From David Bowie's nipple antennae
Do you read me, Lieutenant Bowie?
I said do you read me, Lieutenant Bowie? This is Bowie to Bowie
Do you hear me out there, man?
This is Bowie back to Bowie
I read you loud and clear, man, ooh yeah man Your signals weak on my radar screen
How far out are you, man?
I'm pretty far out
That's pretty far out, man Ooh ah ooh, I'm orbiting Pluto, ooh ah ooh
Drawn in by its groovitational
(Groovitational pull)
I'm jamming out with the Mick Juggernauts
And they think it's pretty cool, man Are you okay Bowie?
What was that sound?
I don't know man
I'll have to turn my ship around Ooh, it's the craziest thing
Yeah, I'm picking it up on my LSD screen
But can you see the stratosphere, ringing?
To the choir of Afronauts singing Bowie's in space
Bowie, Bowie, Bowie, Bowie, Bowie, Bowie
Bowie's in space
Bowie, Bowie, Bowie, Bowie, Bowie, Bowie Eeniee ma ma meenie miny moey
Phasers on funky
Eenie, ma ma meenie miny Bowie
B-B-Bowie's in space
