

Unfortunately

Prong

Confusions born here every day
Spinning circles upon my brain
No idea which way to go
Roam around without a home So fucking lost, invalidated
So brought down demasculated
All the joy just disappeared
Another bed full of tears Hope dissolved, degenerated
The negative has penetrated
No wish for sympathy
It's all a mystery to me Coming apart at the seams
Wanna be alone for the rest of my years
Don't come inside
Leave it to me to go on unfortunately
Unfortunately Confusions born here every day
Spinning circles upon my brain
No idea which way to go
Roam around without a home All my wishes evaporated
Insecurities saturated
So many flaws reappeared
The wrong way I tend to steer Coming apart at the seams
Wanna be alone for the rest of my years
Don't come inside
Leave it to me to go on unfortunately
Unfortunately, unfortunately, unfortunately
