Only In My Mind

Imperative Reaction

I want to know you
But your personality and mind
Are not the things I want to try
And I cannot control you
'Cause no matter how I try
Our conversations aren't defined
And I say
Chorus:
How does it feel?
When you know that I am watching?
How does it feel?
When you know that I am there?
Why do you think you can hide from your mistakes?
Whatever babe, whatever baby
I will see your face again
I followed you a lifetime baby
You could never hide from me
I close my eyes and fantasize
About you right in front of me
And when I find I'm satisfied
I wake up and I realize
That everything you've done to me
Was only in my mind
You are the one to make me better

You are the one who will never change
Sometimes I think you've read my letters
Maybe you already know my name
I want to see you
Not the fragments in my mind or the pages where you lie
Well I want to feel you
In every corner of my bed I sleep with you beneath my head
How does it feel?
When you know that I am watching?
How does it feel?
When you know that I am there?
Why do you think you can hide from your mistakes?
Whatever babe, whatever baby
I will see your face again

I followed you a lifetime baby
You could never hide from me
I close my eyes and fantasize
About you right in front of me
And when I find I'm satisfied
I wake up and I realize
That everything you've done to me
Was only in my mind
(Chorus)
