

Razor Valentine (feat. John Bramwell)

Thea Gilmore

I love you like a whisper
I love you all alone
I love you like a murder, babe
I'm burying the bones
I love you like the last shot
At the bottom of the bottle
I love you razor valentine I love you like the dancing dust
I love you like the static
I love you like the tarmac
Loves the kiss of morning traffic
I love you like the factory smoke
Wraps it arms around the sky
I love you razor valentine Oh, I've been moving kind of slow, don't you think so?
Oh, I've been taming bloody hearts into valentines I love you like a ruin, babe
I love you like a crime
I love you like a drunk
At the sound of closing time
I love you as the seconds on my tongue
Are running wild
I love you razor valentine. Oh, I've been moving kind of slow, don't you think so?
Oh, I've been taming bloody hearts into valentines I love you like a whisper
I love you all alone
I love you like a murder, babe
I'm burying the bones
I love you like the last shot
At the bottom of the bottle
I love you razor valentine
I love you razor valentine

Songwriters

THEA GILMORE Published by

Lyrics Â© BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT US, LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>