

Lost and Found

Mike Pinto

I feel the wind, at my back
And the tide, it is turning
I have fought, tooth and nail, now I'm finally learning
The day, is darkest, just before the dawn
I'm a man, without fear
And it won't be long 'Cause I've found what I'm looking for
I have waited so long for this day to come
There was times I wasn't sure
We all want something more
No one want's a heart that's broken
Love can come to your door, but you got to leave it open I'm a man, of my word, though my instincts have chosen
A path, of success, through a trail of promises broken
When all, you have left, is a trust of another
You'll soon recognize, not your foes, but your brothers And I've found what I'm looking for
I have waited so long for this day to come
There was times I wasn't sure
We all want something more
No one want's a heart that's broken
Love can come to your door, but you got to leave it open Well the lights were all out, and the crow it was calling
Had my back, to the wall, yeah my sky it was falling
As long as this love shall course through my veins
And as long, as you're near, I'll never feel pain 'Cause I've found what I'm looking for
I have waited so long for this day to come
There was times I wasn't sure
We all want something more
No one want's a heart that's broken
Love can come to your door, but you got to leave it open
