Middling Around

Face to Face

I don't know what to tell you
I know it's probably unfair
You've got to be willing to open your eyes
And see for yourself
You probably don't have a prayerI've been trying to tell you
Not sure if you're aware
Everyone's trying to take all they can
You barely exist
You probably don't have a prayerI hope you weren't counting on someone to show you the wayAre you telling me nobody cares at all?
Don't ask me to say that you're wrong
You're probably safe in the middle right where you belongI've got something to tell you
There's no need to despair
You've got to be willing to be more than present
And ready to bleed
You probably don't have a prayerI hope you weren't counting on someone to show you the wayAre you telling me nobody cares at all?
Don't ask me to say that you're wrong
You're probably safe in the middle right where you belongIt's not like it's just going to happen someday
I hope you weren't counting on someone to show you the wayAre you telling me nobody cares at all?
Don't ask me to say that you're wrong
You're probably safe in the middle right where you belongDoes it seem like there's nobody there at all?
Edging outside all along
Just get yourself back in the middle right where you belong
