

My Damsel - A Confession to an Adversary

Evans Blue

Right now Inside this capsule
Your air will be an enemy instead of me
Your answers and your reasons
And why you breathe faster Is because inside
You hold yourself for ransom
Now there is no way out
So, how, how on earth did you ever find a way in? My damned soul needs fire
My damsel breaths fire
In a whisper and she cries Hold on to your life
And in time you'll be far away
Let go of the hate for my name
And sing songs for our escape Your fine charisma
My charm and twisted energy
And how they meet is so perfect
But the portrait is dangerous After we split hairs
And raise them 'cos we made all the changes
So there's no way out
So how could you see me? You're blowing smoke here But my damned soul needs fire
My damsel breaths fire
In a whisper and she cries Hold on to your life
And in time you'll be far away
Let go of the hate for my name
And sing songs for our escape Take hold of your life
And in time you'll be far away
Let go of the hate for my name
And sing songs for our escape Take hold of your life
And in time you'll be far away
Let go of the hate for my name
And sing songs for our escape My damsel breaths fire
And she cries
In whispers and she cries All I wanted was your attention
All I wanted was your attention
All I want is your attention
Right now

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>