

Beautiful Drug

Thievery Corporation

Oh my love, it's not time for us to say our farewell
Not to deny ourselves from ourselves And with the time the season passes once again
Memories that hang in autumn's wind
Memories that hang once again You are the drug in my veins
And I'm waiting to feel it again
And I'm waiting to feel it again, again Through the years love radiates throughout life's charade
Shines through everything that remains unsaid
Shines through everything that remains unsaid You are the drug in my veins
And I'm waiting to feel it again
You are the drug in my veins
And I'm waiting to feel it again, again You are the drug in my veins
And I'm waiting to feel it again
