The Boys Are Too Refined

The Hush Sound

The boys who kiss and bite They are the brilliant ones who speak and write With silver luck They sing in clever tongues Oh, while my knees go weak to be the one She kicks and bites Always quick to follow The boys are too refined Won't matter tomorrow Oh, to be in his mind And if the timing is right To sneak off into the night I'll let myself be taken just for the thrill And if I'm given the chance To be a doll in his hands I will be sure, we shake The mountains while we dance To daddy singing sweet A lullaby to all his credit speak His golden lie To the edge with a car He sent if off a cliff just for the spark To hell with why Always quick to follow The boys are too refined Won't matter tomorrow Oh, to be in his mind And if the timing is right To sneak off into the night I'll let myself be taken just for the thrill And if I'm given the chance To be a doll in his hands I will be sure, we shake The mountains while we dance And if the timing is right To sneak off into the night I'll let myself be taken just for the thrill

> And if I'm given the chance To be a doll in his hands

I will be sure, we shake
The mountains while we
And if the timing is right
To sneak off into the night
I'll let myself be taken just for the thrill
And if I'm given the chance
To be a doll in his hands
I will be sure, we shake
The mountains while we dance
